CHOIR OF THE CHURCH OF SAINT ANN
SAINT ANN FESTIVAL BRASS
My dear Parishioners and Friends,

Let us go rejoicing to the house of our God! The Psalm response for today’s special sesquicentennial Parish Anniversary eucharistic celebration helps to set the tone for our coming together to give thanks and praise to Almighty God for the blessings of 150 years as the Parish of Saint Ann! We come in prayerful worship to remember, to rejoice, to renew, and to rededicate ourselves as the living stones which build up this Parish Church.

We are today both the recipients of the time, talent, and treasure of our forebears who built three churches and a school on this property to serve the needs of a growing population of Catholics with a pastoral outreach to many in need. With grateful hearts, we sing a song of thanks to so many former pastors and parishioners who were the living stones of this Parish in their time. Their legacy is now entrusted to us to hand on to the next generation – a beautiful place for prayer and praise, of ministry and service, of education and formation in the Gospel. Faithful to our baptismal call, each of us and collectively help to build up the Kingdom of God in this little corner of the Archdiocese ideally situated to continue working with God’s grace to witness to the Faith by lives of charity.

In your name, I welcome in special fashion His Excellency, Archbishop Wilton Gregory, who presides over the Archdiocese as chief Shepherd and graces us by his presence today as the principal celebrant. The Archbishop should feel “at home” with us upon his first visit to St. Ann’s Church, since the architecture of our present church (1947) bears a striking resemblance to his former Cathedral of Christ the King in the Archdiocese of Atlanta designed by the same architects, Henry D. Dagit and Sons of Philadelphia. I also welcome our guest concelebrants who served here as Associate Pastors many years ago and priests of the Northwest Deanery, as well as the priests of the St. John Society who assist me as chaplains at The American University. In particular, I want to welcome Father John Raphael, long-time friend and exceptional preacher for today’s homily.

As many of you experience, our Parish is experiencing a renewal in many ways. Not only are we blessed to repair and to improve the interior and exterior of the physical plant of this large property, but more importantly, we are growing in the Holy Spirit to reflect our Lord’s mandate to witness to the mission of charity and service. All of this, of course, is the fruit of His divine grace which comes to us in the gift of the sacraments, especially the Holy Eucharist at Mass. For this reason, we gather around the altar of sacrifice and there experience the substance of our identity principally as Catholics – the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ. Here we are at home with the Lord. Let us continue to open the doors of our beautiful church to so many more who seek a house of prayer, a place of refuge, a home with God. Happy Anniversary, everyone!

Faithfully yours in Christ,

Rev. Monsignor James D. Watkins
Pastor
Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

It is with great joy that I join in your prayers giving thanks to God for the graces of the past and present as you celebrate the momentous 150th anniversary of St. Ann’s Parish. As we do so, may you be renewed in the Holy Spirit in anticipation of the future that God has in store for each of you.

Founded to provide for the pastoral care of people, the parish is the fundamental building block of our work as a Church. These communities are where we live out our faith in the sacraments, hear the word of God and the teachings of the Apostles and saints handed down to us, and they offer an oasis of hope and mercy to the world. St. Ann’s own history as a community glorifying the Lord in faithful witness, charitable outreach, and the teaching of the faith is a powerful testament to our Gospel mission alive in the world today.

As you now commemorate this heritage and dedicate yourself for the road ahead, it is my prayer that you will experience on-going grace that guides you in your pilgrim journey. Thank you for this devotion and dedication, rejoicing in the saving love of Jesus Christ.

Asking the intercession of Saints Ann, Joachim and the Blessed Virgin Mary on this jubilee, may God’s blessings be upon you, the whole St. Ann community and all those you touch as you continue to fruitfully serve the Lord and our sisters and brothers with love and generosity.

With joyful best wishes, gratitude and prayers, I am

Devotedly yours in Christ,

*Wilton D. Gregory
Archbishop of Washington
Dear Msgr. Watkins,

Pleased to learn that St. Ann’s Parish in the Archdiocese of Washington is celebrating its 150th Anniversary on Sunday, October 20 of this year, I have the distinct privilege of conveying to you as Pastor, to your Parish Staff, and to each of your parishioners the warm greetings, heartfelt congratulations and spiritual closeness of His Holiness Pope Francis.

On this joyful occasion, the Holy Father gladly joins this beloved community in thanking Almighty God for the many blessings of these past 150 years, a milestone which is, indeed, a tribute to the contribution of so many devoted clergy, religious and lay faithful, beginning with the Jesuits at Georgetown University, who have passed on to generations our precious faith with admirable fidelity and generosity.

His Holiness is confident that this important commemoration will inspire in all of the faithful, particularly the young, a renewed awareness of their mission to bear joyful witness to the Lord, and he fervently prays that they will grow in appreciation of their baptismal dignity as children of God and members of Christ’s Mystical Body, the Church, recommitting themselves to lead ever more authentic lives in accordance with the teachings of the Gospel.

Commending St. Ann’s Parish to the loving protection of Mary, the Mother of God and the prayerful intercession of its heavenly patroness, the Holy Father cordially imparts his Apostolic Blessing as a pledge of joy and peace in the Lord.

Offering my own personal best wishes, I remain,

Sincerely yours in Christ,

WHEREAS, St. Ann’s Catholic Church has prayerfully and civically ministered to the spiritual and social needs of generations of congregants from various walks of life for more than 150 years, currently serving more than 600 Catholic families and actively engaging in the community to provide much-needed social services to many of our city’s most vulnerable residents; and

WHEREAS, St. Ann’s Catholic Church continues to play an important role in providing spiritual leadership to our city as it has done in the past, and will continue to do in the future:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, THE MAYOR OF WASHINGTON, DC, do hereby proclaim October 20, 2019 as "SAINT ANN CATHOLIC CHURCH DAY" in Washington, DC.
Our Mission Statement

Saint Ann Roman Catholic Church is part of the Body of Christ of the Archdiocese of Washington centered in and around the Tenleytown community of our Nation’s Capital.

Our mission is to provide reverent and prayerful worship of God primarily through the Sacraments of the Church;

to foster the bonds of faith and friendship within our community;

to evangelize people of all ages and cultures;

and to be of service to people regardless of culture, religion or boundaries.

Who We Are

St. Ann’s Church is a Roman Catholic rite parish that serves more than 800 Catholic families in Northwest Washington, D.C.

We serve the local community through fundraising projects and service activities, provide education to youth in grades K-8, and serve the spiritual needs of our members through church services and opportunities that enable members to be the Body of Christ.

Through annual and biannual campaigns, we support organizations like Friendship Place, which aims to end homelessness, and partner with groups like the Tenleytown Historical Society to promote events for the community.

The church is located one block south of the Tenleytown/American University Red Line Metro stop.

St. Ann’s Church is the oldest Catholic parish in the part of Washington, DC which lies west of Rock Creek Park and north of Georgetown.

The present-day church is the third on the site, and is a larger version of a church designed by the same architect who designed the Cathedral for the Archdiocese of Atlanta.

The origins of the parish go back to the middle of the 19th century.
The History of Saint Ann Catholic Church:

Through the War and Three Reconstructions, and the People Who Got Us Here

The creation of Saint Ann Catholic Church is entwined with one of the most difficult periods in the history of our nation: the Civil War. Tenleytown, (then called Tenallytown, after the owner of a nearby tavern), is located at the highest elevation in Washington. Because of this, Fort Reno was built to defend the city from Confederate troops. What was once mostly farmlands and a few establishments had grown to accommodate the needs of the army, and with that growth came commerce and an increase in population.

At that time, the local residents who were Catholic had to travel into Georgetown in order to attend Mass and receive the Sacraments at Trinity Church. The unpaved rutted roads made this an uncomfortable journey on horseback or buggy. One local resident, Anne Green, was a devout Catholic and respected community member. She, and a number of other Tenallytown Catholics, advocated for the establishment of a local parish to serve the spiritual needs of the growing community. Father Bernard Maguire, S.J., was then the president of Georgetown College, and responded to the ardent requests for a local Catholic Church by getting permission from the Archbishop of Baltimore to do so. From this effort, Saint Ann’s parish was created. In part, naming this parish Saint Ann was chosen as recognition of Anne Green’s leadership.

The Saint Ann parish is the eleventh oldest to be established in our nation’s capital, and the first parish to be established north of Georgetown. Originally conceived as a mission parish of Georgetown College, priests from that institution were provided to St. Ann for many years. The parishes of the Shrine of the Most Blessed Sacrament and Annunciation were founded as missionary parishes of St. Ann Catholic Church.

Our current St. Ann church building is the third to be located in this area of Tenleytown. The first was a wooden frame structure, dedicated on July 26, 1868, and stood near the corner of Albemarle Street and Wisconsin Avenue (then called the Rockville-Georgetown Pike) Northwest, and could seat about 100 parishioners. Tenleytown had a population of approximately 500 individuals at the conclusion of the Civil War, according to a contemporary newspaper report.

A small schoolroom was located on an upper floor to provide religious education. The congregation grew, and in 1891, under the direction of then-pastor John Barry, a 2-story framed schoolhouse with a hall at the site of our current gym was constructed. The lower floor contained three schoolrooms, and the upper floor had the hall that had seating for 400, electricity and a piano. That hall became a center for community activities and was used by Tenleytown residents and others for theatrical productions and parties. A new streetcar line, chartered by Congress and built by the Georgetown and Tenallytown Railroad Company, opened up that area to even more development.

As the Tenleytown population grew, so did spiritual needs of the community. The next pastor, Father James Mallon, recognized that the existing church would not be able to meet those needs.
The original St. Ann building became inadequate, and so, in 1902, a second church was built on the site that is now located in playground area next to our gymnasium, and was dedicated on October 25, 1903. This was a stone structure, about 100 feet tall, and could accommodate 300 parishioners. Gothic in style, it had a rounded entry door fronting Wisconsin Avenue, a rose window, three rows of pews and a bank of stained glass windows. A rectory was also constructed at that time so clergy could live on site.

Now, it is also important to recognize the contributions made to our parish and Tenleytown by the dedicated Orders of nuns who tended to the educational and health of our community and were associated with our St. Ann parish.

The Sisters of Providence first had a presence in Tenleytown in the early 1900s and built a beautiful building for the education of young girls and women. They opened the Immaculata School in 1904, located on Yuma Street NW, just across from our present St. Ann’s Church. This remained in operation until the mid 1980s, when it was sold to The American University.

The Sisters of Bon Secours were nuns whose mission was to tend to the sick by making home visits. At the turn of the 20th century, Washington, like many other cities, experienced outbreaks of diseases such as typhoid and scarlet fever. At the request of then Saint Ann pastor Fr. James Mallon, the Sisters acquired and moved into the church’s rectory building. They risked their own health to provide much needed care to infirmed District residents and were particularly needed during the deadly Spanish Flu epidemic that swept the world after the First World War. Eventually, the beautiful Italianate-style building still present just west of our church on Yuma St. was built for them, where they remained until 1966.

The population and Catholic community at Tenleytown continued to grow, and again more space was needed. The large building north of our church, which is now our gymnasium, was constructed and opened in 1938, and was used as an annex to the parish school, an auditorium, and for Sunday Masses. Our current church is located in the site that was the old rectory. It was dedicated on April 18, 1948. Built in the Gothic style under pastor Fr. Henry Collins, it is a beautiful space for worship and community.

Our stained glass windows tell the stories of those saints who helped build and define our faith. The many other works of religious art, including an exact replica – one of only 100 in the world – of Michelangelo’s Pietà, provide inspiration.

And as inspirational as these representations of our faith are, it is through the people of our parish community that the greatest commandment and challenge that Jesus gave to us can be realized: to “love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind” (Mt 22:37), and to “love your neighbor as yourself” (Mk 12:31).

St. Ann’s parish welcomes all who would like to attend our worship services and join that community.

LITURGY OF THE WORD

FIRST READING

Exodus 17: 8-13

A reading from the Book of Exodus

In those days, Amalek came and waged war against Israel. Moses, therefore, said to Joshua, “Pick out certain men, and tomorrow go out and engage Amalek in battle. I will be standing on top of the hill with the staff of God in my hand.” So Joshua did as Moses told him: he engaged Amalek in battle after Moses had climbed to the top of the hill with Aaron and Hur. As long as Moses kept his hands raised up, Israel had the better of the fight, but when he let his hands rest, Amalek had the better of the fight. Moses’ hands, however, grew tired; so they put a rock in place for him to sit on. Meanwhile Aaron and Hur supported his hands, one on one side and one on the other, so that his hands remained steady till sunset. And Joshua mowed down Amalek and his people with the edge of the sword.

The Word of the Lord.

R/. Thanks be to God.
RESPONSORIAL PSALM
Psalm 100

Shout for joy to the Lord, all you lands; come before him with joyful song.

R/. Shout for joy to the Lord, all you lands; come before him with joyful song.

Know that the Lord is God alone; he made us, his we are.

R/. Know that the Lord is God alone; he made us, his we are.

Enter his gates to give him thanks; enter his courts with praise.

R/. Enter his gates to give him thanks; enter his courts with praise.

Indeed how good is our God: eternal his merciful love, his kindness from age to age, in every generation.

R/. Indeed how good is our God: eternal his merciful love, his kindness from age to age, in every generation.

SECOND READING
Colossians 3: 4

A reading from the Letter of Saint Paul to the Colossians

Beloved: Remain faithful to what you have learned and believed, because you know from whom you learned it, and that from infancy you have known the sacred Scriptures, which are capable of giving you wisdom for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus.

All Scripture is inspired by God and is useful for teaching, for refutation, for correction, and for training in righteousness, so that one who belongs to God may be competent, equipped for every good work.

I charge you in the presence of God and of Christ Jesus, who will judge the living and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingly power: proclaim the word; be persistent whether it is convenient or inconvenient; convince, reprimand, encourage through all patience and teaching.

The Word of the Lord.
R/. Thanks be to God.
The word of God is living and effective, discerning reflections and thoughts of the heart. R/.
PROFESSION OF FAITH

I believe in one God,
the Father almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God,
born of the Father before all ages,
God from God, Light from Light,
true God from true God,
begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us men and for our salvation
he came down from heaven,

All kneel at the words of incarnation:

and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate;
he suffered death and was buried.
and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures;
He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead,
and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father and the Son,
who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified,
who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

UNIVERSAL PRAYER
Response: Lord, hear our prayer.
Music during the Preparation of the Gifts and Altar

In My Father's House

In my Father's house are many dwellings,
and if I go to prepare a place for you,
I will come back again and take you to myself,
so that where I am you also may be.

Do not let your hearts be troubled.
You have faith in God; have faith also in me.

In my Father's house are many dwelling places.
If there were not, would I have told you
I am going to prepare a place for you.

Where I am going, you know the way.
For I am the way, the truth, and the life;
For I am the way, the truth, and the life;
no one comes to the Father except through me.

If you know me, you also know my Father.

My spirit will be with you always.
The advocate, the spirit of truth will remind you of all I have said.
Peace I leave with you; I give to you.
Do not let your hearts be troubled.
Do not be afraid, I have told you
I will come back to you; have faith in me.

In my Father's house are many dwellings,
and if I go to prepare a place for you,
I will come back again and take you to myself,
so that where I am you also may be.
