

MARY HELP of CHRISTIANS

Roman Catholic Church

August 15, 2020

Dear Faith Formation Parents,

Thank you for allowing us to collaborate with you in the faith formation of your child; as you know, religious education begins at home with your teaching and example, we only reinforce what you started at home. To that extend, we want to inform you what is happening in this challenging year for our community and the Archdiocese's guidelines for opening and maintaining the safety of your child.

At this time, what we are learning is that we have to work differently for the safety and health of the children and the catechists. What this means is that we will apply the following formats: virtual online lessons and home study, at least for the very near future.

These conditions will be reviewed constantly. We will review them again at Christmas time. In the next few weeks you will receive from us an email letter including the class, teacher's name and starting dates. Please be so kind to reply to me with the phone number that you would like us to use for the classes and for written communications.

You will also receive all the information on how to help and guide your children with the ongoing format of the classes. The contents will be very wide per class, so you can prepare your children altogether. We will also provide special contents for those children who will receive sacraments.

We deeply appreciate your commitment to the religious education of your children and appreciate your patience as we work through our many current challenges.

Monsignor Hogan and the Faith Formation team are immensely grateful at the opportunity of serving you and your family.

Yours in Christ,

Issa Gaytan
